

Receiving expert support and coaching throughout the journey...

My Apprenticeship Journey

Hear from one of our incredible learners from Sainsbury's who has experienced the journey firsthand.

Martin, an employee at Sainsbury's, undertook the LGV C+E apprenticeship with Learning Curve Group after discovering the opportunity through his work. Motivated by his love for driving and a new challenge, Martin saw the apprenticeship as a great opportunity to boost his career, especially with the added benefit of being fully funded.

Throughout his learning journey, Martin thoroughly enjoyed his apprenticeship, stepping out of his comfort zone and facing various challenges to personally and professionally progress. He has now successfully passed and obtained his HGV licenses (Class 1 and Class 2). One of Martin's favourite aspects of his programme, and the opportunity in general, has been the chance to meet new and interesting people with similar career aspirations and interests!

Martin embraced the challenges of the programme, including theory and practical tests, and his end-point assessment, putting his all into overcoming any barriers that came his way. Martin found that the guidance, advice and support from his coach, Gary, allowed him to approach any challenges with confidence and determination whilst regular meetings and readily available support made his learning process smooth.

The apprenticeship has significantly transformed Martin, making him a more confident, competent, and outgoing person at work. He now excels at meeting deadlines, working under pressure, and staying proactive in keeping up with industry developments. Martin is now a safer and more efficient driver, complying with all regulations and contributing positively to his team!
